

SOCIAL CARE

Glasgow City Council

A key focus on ensuring that sustainability and social justice always go together

The city is the only one in the UK to offer an annual affordable warmth dividend to all vulnerable elderly people over the age of 80 - £100 every winter since the new Administration was elected in 2011. The Council also delivers a major domestic energy efficiency programme, leveraging in national and local funding sources to provide up to £500 a year in savings for fuel-poor residents. Now Glasgow is establishing an Energy Services Company for the city – a radical move to protect our people from market failure in the energy system by drawing on our history of municipal activism.
